Dear Doctor,

Your paper entitled Social Anxiety Disorder Among Medical Students at King Abdulaziz University in Rabigh, Saudi Arabia, was published in the Middle East Journal of Family Medicine, March 2023, Volume 21, Issue 2.

At that time we were indexed in ISI, Web of Science and a range of other Indexes and the paper remains in most of these indexes and also free to air online on our MEJFM website.

It had received 239 citations on our MEJFM website when I last checked.

Unfortunately we lost our ISI / WOS indexing after that time due to missing some minor plagiarism in several other regional papers.

We do our best to vet all papers and have the appropriate software to check them but occasionally a few slip through the system. Unfortunately this has affected the full indexing of your excellent paper and I apologise for this state of affairs.

Thank you however for your valuable contribution, which is still available 'free to view' online.

Sincerely
